天氣悶熱，午睡醒來，懶洋洋地在澡盆裡泡著。我無意之中聽到妻子把一些人生大道理傳授給九歲的女兒。她們母女倆出去大買特買新衣服，捧著大大小小的盒子回家。他們並不知道我在浴室。突然女兒問道：「媽媽，爸爸一直叫窮，是真的嗎？」妻子回答：「當然不是，他只是要我們知道，他辛辛苦苦地賺錢，我們才有好日子過。男人都一樣，要人奉承，他們喜歡自以為是，總認為自己聰明又能幹。」我一聲不響地靜待著。

The weather was sultry. After taking a nap, I lazily soaked in the bath. I inadvertently heard my wife pass on some life principles to our nine-year-old daughter. The mother and daughter went out to buy new clothes and went home with many big and small boxes. They didn't know that I was in the bathroom. Suddenly my daughter asked, "Mom, Dad has always said that he's poor; is it true?" My wife replied, "Of course not. He just wants us to know he has worked hard to make money so that we can have a good life. Men are the same. They like people to flatter on them, they like to be self-righteous, and they always think that they are smart and capable." I waited quietly.
