1130617 高中職生中翻英短文翻譯參考答案

He asked me a lot of questions about the BOYO Foundation. He said those kids were really very lucky because they had people taking care of their studying. He said that when he was in the junior high school, most classmates in his class attended cram schools. Or some of them were taught by their parents. He was one of the minority kids who could not go to cramschool, neither did he have parents to help.
