Taiwanese veteran actress, Chen Shu-fang (陳淑芳), wins big at Golden Horse Awards. The 81-year-old won for two different films, including the best supporting actress for Dear Tenant and best leading actress for Little Big Women, both complex family dramas. Not only had she never won before, she had never been nominated for the prize previously.

Dear Tenant is about a gay man who devotedly cares for his dead lover's family and is restrained yet highly emotional. A gay man of the story, selflessly caring for his dead lover's elderly mother and young son, explores the limits of unconditional love and the judgment and misunderstanding society still exhibits towards homosexuality.
