Tung flowers bloom during April and May of each year. Miaoli County then would hold its Tung Flower Festival annually. When the tung flowers bloom, white tung flowers cover the mountains. When a breeze comes, tung flower petals float to the ground like snowflakes, otherwise known as “May Snow”.

Hakkanese make up the majority of Miaoli County residents; therefore, authentic Hakka delicacies are around there. There are dishes like pig’s knuckle with preserved vegetables, pork large intestines with shredded ginner, and many others.
