My friend's father entered. The two of them looked alike very much. He told me very sternly that he had disowned this good-for-nothing boy quite long ago. He continued saying that his son is a disgrace to his family and he couldn't believe this would happen. Thus, he had not only been unwilling to speak with his son for a long time, but also forbidden the rest of the family to contact his son. Ever since his son had gone to jail, not once had a single member of their family ever been in touch with him.
