There are many jobs in the world. If we can do extremely well, we can influence the society. After I have served in the jail for years, I've had some thoughts. I often think, a mediocre worker may not make lots of impacts, but being a mother is different. Even if a mother is ordinary, she can be a kind-hearted mother and then I believe our prisons would be emptied by half. That is, an ordinary mother can still have positive influence on society.
