One night at about 11:30, we're awakened by a commotion. It seemed that the elderly woman had gone missing. The door of her room was widely open, but she was nowhere to be found. Everyone in the hotel was mobilized to search for her. Due to the large size of the grounds, many of them looked for her through the darkness. We decided to drive and search outside the hotel. Suddenly, we saw the elderly woman walking in the street. To our surprise, she recognized us and let us take her back to the hotel.
