If we watch international news, we would notice many events are related to racism. The so-called racism is a kind of ideology which says that some races are problematic, and the result of this ideology is discrimination. What Hitler did during the Second World War was entirely based upon racism. Even at present, racism still exists in many countries around the whole world, including Asia. We should pay attention to this phenomena. Of course, we don't have this kind of thinking in Taiwan.
