Mainland China puts much emphasis on semiconductor industry. But, in terms of manufacturing high class IC products, they are indeed behind us. This is also a problem which has been noticed by the Chinese government. What we should ask is: Why is the case? The support from the Chinese government to the semiconductor industry is actually far greater than that from Taiwan. Maybe you could try to figure out the reasons. I would also try to talk about this issue here and hope that I can explain part of the reasons.
