The staff member told him that because the visitor was a male, he must have been a soldier, so there must have been a fingerprint file. He gave Professor Chen a teacup and told him that next time when the visitor comes again, Professor Chen could pour tea in the cup for him. He should be careful and not leave fingerprints when pouring the tea into the teacup. The guest would leave fingerprints. Professor Chen must carefully save the cup and send it back to the inspection station.
