I have three best friends. One is Rita, another is Nick, and the other is Jill. When we studied at school, we liked to learn together. Rita was a smart girl who usually had good ideas. Nick was a popular boy whom many girls liked. Jill was the nicest girl who helped me with my English all the time. We graduated from the university twenty years ago. Now we are all married. I'll have a date with them next Sunday. I'm so excited about it.
