

中心：_____

姓名：_____

1140609 大專院校學生英翻中短文翻譯題目

The Czech Republic is unlikely to adopt the EU's common currency, the euro, in the next decade because of lacking the political will to make the change, central bank Governor Jiri Rusnok was quoted as saying. The Czechs joined the EU in 2004 and committed to one day giving up its own currency, the crown, for the euro. But successive governments have put off setting a date for the change.

Czech Republic 捷克共和國

commit 表態